Information:
Isidor Stögbauer-Donation

The Isidor Stögbauer endowment supports regular students of an instrumental or vocal class of the Anton Bruckner Private University who have been found to be in need and whose performance is worthy of support.

Applications are to be sent to the scholarship office of the Anton Bruckner Private University (stipendien@bruckneruni.at).

Prerequisites for the award of the Isidor Stögbauer Donation are:

- Regular study of an instrumental or vocal programme at the ABPU from the third semester onwards. In exceptional cases, the jury may also award a grant to younger students if their skills already meet the requirements of the 3rd semester.
- Fully completed application including all required documents.

Documents to be submitted in digital form

- Completed application form
- Confirmation of enrolment
- Video of the programme (see below for guidelines)
- A statement from the ZKF university teacher

Procedure

The recipients of the donation will be determined by evaluating the video submission.
A maximum of four participants can receive a gift.

There is no legal entitlement to the award and the amount of the gift.

The application deadline is 15th November of the current academic year. The complete application documents are to be sent in digital form to the scholarship office of the Anton Bruckner Private University.

Guidelines Programme and Video

- The programme must contain a slow and a fast part of one or more compositions.
- The length of the entire programme must not exceed 10 minutes
- Both files are only allowed in MP4 format, which may not be cut
- Maximum file size in total 200 MB
- Please upload the video to the bruckner cloud (cloud.bruckneruni.at) in a folder you have created yourself and note the "share link" in the documents.

Procedure

Applicants will be informed by the scholarship committee about the possible awarding of the donation after the submissions have been assessed.
Please note: only complete applications can be processed. There is no legal entitlement to the award.
